Want to be part of Kansas City’s entrepreneurial momentum? Here’s your chance to tell the story of our entrepreneurial all stars in the making. KCSourceLink helps aspiring startups and established small businesses across the 18 county Kansas City area find the right business resources to start, scale or accelerate. We are offering an unpaid, portfolio building opportunity for a student with communications/marketing background for Spring Semester 2014.

Duties will include developing content for the KCSourceLink website:
- Reaching out to targeted business owners to get their entrepreneurial story and turning the story into web content using video, still photos, animation or written word.
- Reaching out to KCSourceLink Resource Partners to highlight the unique offering each has for entrepreneurs and business owners and creating web content.
- Publishing these to the KCSourceLink website.
- Writing posts for the KCSourceLink blog that are relevant and timely for Kansas City entrepreneurs and small business owners.

Successful applicants should have excellent written and oral communication skills; customer service experience; and a proven record of dependability. Please send a short resume, cover letter and writing sample to nepperj@umkc.edu.

KCSourceLink is located at 4747 Troost, KCMO 64110. Hours are flexible. Students are required to submit 2 – 4 entries per week.
