

Sarah Scoop, LLC internship opportunity (3 openings for Fall)

Kansas City, MO

sarah@sarahscoop.com

About

SarahScoop.com is an online blog/magazine designed to give everyone the scoop on their favorite things. This lifestyle based outlet works with brands in a variety of ways including: tv segments, blogging, social media, and more.

The intern will assist their supervisor in the planning, detailing and execution of various projects. Social media posting, blogging, and creating will be a large portion of the job as well. Public relations, video, photo editing and social media knowledge is helpful. You must have a positive attitude, desire to learn, and willingness to be flexible. Oh, and like to have fun too!

Requirements

- Must be a self starter and able to multi-task – you will be working on different projects
- Be able to work required internship hours per week (typically 9-15)
- Public relations and social media experience preferred but not required
- Be able to work in a fast pace environment
- Kansas City area only
- College Credit (non-paid)
- Must contribute to the blog at least 2x per week, will have your own byline

Students interested in applying for an internship can email their resume to sarah@sarahscoop.com.

Please apply by August 14, 2017