

Position Title: Judge Advocate General, U.S. Navy

Position Type: Full Time

Job Description: The Navy JAG Corps is accepting applications for their Student Program. The Navy JAG Corps' Student Program is the most common way to become a Navy JAG Corps officer. It enables selected law students to commission in the inactive Navy Reserve while attending law school. Upon law school graduation, bar admission, and successful completion of Navy Officer Development School, participants are appointed as active-duty Navy judge advocates, ready to start their adventure.

How To Apply: To apply, visit <http://jag.navy.mil/careers> and click on the opportunities link and follow the application instructions for applying to the Student Program. The deadline to apply for our Spring 2015 Student Program selection board is February 13, 2015.

Contact Information:

Lea E Suarez
Office of the Judge Advocate General
Military Personnel Division, Code 61
Washington Navy Yard, DC
Email: lea.suarez@navy.mil
Phone: 202-685-8527

Compensation Type: Paid

Compensation Details: A Navy JAG's salary includes base pay plus a tax-free housing allowance (known as Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH)), and a tax-free monthly food allowance (known as Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS)). A military pay calculator can be found at the following website <http://militarypay.defense.gov/pay/calc/index.html>.

Desired Class Level(s): 2L, and 3L

Practice Area(s): Military

Job Location(s): World Wide